

KNOWN IN THIS CITY.

Hon. John Lynch, Col. E. McK. Hudson, and F. A. Tschiffely Dead.

Ex-Representative John Lynch, of Maine, died last night in Portland. Mr. Lynch left Washington a month ago on a visit to his old home in Portland, accompanied by Mrs. Lynch. His death was not unexpected, and was caused by heart disease. Since his retirement from political life at the close of the Fortieth Congress, Mr. Lynch has resided in Washington, and has been actively identified with the interests of the city. He established the old National Union newspaper soon after leaving Congress, and was prominent in the ranks of newspaper men. He also started the Potomac Terra Cotta Company, of which he was president. He was a member of the Board of Trade and the Builders' Exchange, and of the Masonic fraternity, being identified with Portland lodges. He was one of the most energetic promoters of the recent patent centerfall, being a member of the executive committee. His Washington residence was at 1615 New Hampshire avenue. He leaves a wife and one son, John Lynch, jr. It is thought that an ascent of Pike's Peak, which Mr. Lynch made about a year ago, affected his heart. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Portland, from 75 Spring street.

Hon. John Lynch was born in Portland, Me., February 15, 1825, and was educated in the public schools of that city. He adopted the business of a merchant. After serving two terms in the state legislature he was elected to the Thirty-ninth Congress from the district now represented by Hon. Thomas B. Reed. In that Congress he served on the Committees on Banking and Currency and the Bankrupt Law. He was re-elected to the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses, serving on the Committee on Post-offices and Post Roads and as chairman of Navy Department and Banking and Currency committees.

Col. Edward McKeever Hudson, retired, and late major of the Fifteenth Infantry and brevet lieutenant colonel, died at his residence, 2001 I street northwest, shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday morning after a short illness from Bright's disease.

Col. Hudson was a well-known Washingtonian and has resided in the city continuously since his retirement in 1870, and was always a prominent character in Army and Navy circles. The family has as yet concluded no arrangements for the obsequies.

Col. Hudson was born in Connecticut, and appointed to the Military Academy from that State on July 1, 1845. He graduated and was made brevet second lieutenant in 1849, and attached to the Third Artillery. On September 12, 1850, he was promoted to the second lieutenantcy of the Fourth Artillery, and upon April 20, 1855, to first. His commission as captain followed May 11, 1861. He was next promoted to lieutenant colonel and aide de camp on March 31, 1863, for gallant conduct in the battle of the Wilderness and the campaign before Richmond. Upon the reorganization of the Army he was made made major of the Fifteenth Infantry, and served with that regiment until March 15, 1869, when he was detached, and remained unassigned until December 15, 1870, when he was placed upon the retired list upon his own application. His record through the war was one to which his friends point with pride, and his entire military career was that of a true soldier and gentleman.

Mr. F. A. Tschiffely died at his residence near Hunting Hill, Md., Wednesday. He was born in Washington, and removed to his late home in 1859. Mr. Tschiffely was an ardent Democrat, and held a position in the Land Office from the administration of Jackson to that of Lincoln. He was seventy-six years old. The burial will be at Oak Hill this afternoon at 12:30.
